Where can I get my COVID-19 vaccine?

- Search for vaccines near you at https://getvaccinated.oregon.gov/#/locator
- Local public health authorities, who work with local providers, including some hospitals and health clinics, to get shots in arms.
- Pharmacies. Local pharmacies and national pharmacy chains offer COVID-19 vaccines.
- Federally Qualified Health Centers (also called Community Health Centers), which have over 270 sites across the state.
- Mobile clinics for specific at-risk populations.
- Tribal health authorities for tribal members and their families.
- Veteran’s Administration health providers for service members receiving care through the VA.
